

24th Annual Resident Poster Day

October 12, 2021

A Rare Case of Ischemia-Reperfusion Injury After Mesenteric Angiography and Stenting

Le Yu Naing, MD; Varun Bhalla, MD; Joel McFarland, MD

Ischemia-reperfusion injury is a rare complication from mesenteric angioplasty and stenting treated usually with the conservative approach but may require treatment with coil embolization in severe cases. Use of dual antiprothrombotic but may require treatment