

The only solution to homelessness is a Home, and since the 1990s, the evidence for Housing First as an alternative to residential treatment has been growing